

ICAI

ICAI is India's prestigious institution in professional accounting also its known very well for strong global heads & genuineness. Citizens see ICAI as protector, large companies or small companies, citizens who don't even know what are rules, regulation. Noting which is important is ICAI leadership across all states always tries to do good for citizens seeking help. CA Shri Ranjeet Kumar Agarwal also CA Shri Charanjot Singh Nanda are lawful person, very sincere for making good development across all regions in all states for enhancing the life of common citizens, making them aware of importance of Chartered Accountant also importance of maintaining books of accounting, income & expenditure. India is a country where large population gradually understanding importance of income tax, important role of central and state government in making citizens aware that they will get health security, good services, education also how every officer in Army protecting the borders of the country because good citizens can travel to any country using Passport, VISA or as per the laws of different government in different countries, every police officer in nation doing his duty very well to maintain law & order, discipline also utilising public resources at central and state region for social good. Initiatives of the central also state government to spread awareness essentially public welfare, social good simply addition for citizen. Society creates criminals and society creates good citizens in country, just about stakeholders making a significant impact in life. Every state government, city administration understands the importance of law & order because foreign investors surely see geography, law & order, industry centric educated skilled workforce. ICAI is not just a professional network but an engine for growth in country. Chartered Accountants are good advisors who actually help industrialists, common citizens, government to maintain their accounting books and do justice with the public money by creating low cost, government libraries, government schools, government hospitals, government banks also network of essential public utility services. Every country usually has gaps in government organisations but important to see how knowledge addition can facilitate growth in every region. Concept of free services by any government is not usually good for the public, reducing cost in some cases may be good also having proper public structure is important in village, city or state region for making significant impact utilising public resources for the upliftment of citizens across all cities and states. ICAI is important but when it will collaborate with industry organisations like FICCI, Assocham, CII, PHD Chamber of commerce and other international industry organisations – process of sustainable development will gain significant speed & reduce wastage of government and public resources. Every rural, city, state government organisation can share details of yearly plan with central government, what they have done for the citizen, what they are doing for the citizen and what they will do for the citizen in this way every city, state, rural region can learn from each other and also able to make significant impact by solving challenges which can further uplift weakest citizen in the country. This whitepaper speaks about contribution of Chartered Accountants who made significant positive impact using all public, government resources for addition in life of weakest citizens. Also Chartered Accountants who always remain good, lawful, ethical even being president & vice president of the largest professional organisation ICAI. Comptroller and Auditor General of India doing great addition in process of sustainable development with state and central government organisations. This will be good for new FDI & all public, private sector companies. CA Nandini Agarwal, Surbhi Gandhi, Anurag Aggarwal, Jagriti Jain & some other senior Chartered Accountants from CIRC NIRC EIRC SIRC WIRC are doing great social work by informing common citizens about government laws, taxation information to uplift common citizen.
